Interest Choices

Did you know that we offer investment certificates that provide the option to have your interest compounded?

Our Demand Certificates, which we no longer offer for sale, only include the option to have the interest paid out by check. For all of the investment certificates we are currently offering, you have the choice to receive the interest payments by check or to have the interest reinvested in the certificate, subject to other restrictions described in our Offering circular.

Please see our Offering Circular for details on all or our current investment options.
